

2nd Annual Savannah Breeze Weekend

January 18-21, 2008

Tybee Island, Georgia

Welcome to the Savannah Breeze Weekend detailed information site. We hope you join us for this breezy, easy, fun-filled, girls only weekend full of southern charm. It's sure to brighten up an otherwise boring January!!!

Arrive onto Tybee Island and reset your clocks and watches to Tybee Time!

It's time to put yourself in a Buffet frame of mind and find your salt shaker and if you want to, wear your flip flops. Between 6:30 and 7:00 PM a Victorian trolley will come and pick you up at your personal Tybee retreats and will transport you to the world of BeBe, Weezie and Margaritaville. Dance to a live band while sipping Margaritas and other fun fare. Get to know your new friends. A typical southern supper will be served, from our famous collard greens to delectable fried chicken to scrumptious dessert. Ms. Mary Kay Andrews, famous author of best-selling novels, including Savannah Breeze, will personally meet and greet you and she'll give us some insight into her new book coming out in the spring. Our MC will make introductions all-'round and will conduct the interviews for our Ms. Savannah Breeze Queen contest being held Saturday night. At approximately 10:00 PM our trolley will take you back to your accommodations.

9:00 AM Rise and shine and have a look at the ocean, or lounge around with your friends, but not too long. It's time to get ready for the junking and power/shopping event! At 9:00 AM we'll begin picking you up at your places of stay to take you to the favorite haunts of Weezie, BeBe and Mary Kay. Visit Universal Trading, and Home Accents, or the Paris Market and The Kitchen Shop. Sip on cocktails at some of the establishments and try out their appetizers. For those wanting to have some "private" time on Tybee, an early trolley will return you to Tybee Island around noon. Those wanting to stay can enjoy lunch on their own, and then power shop some more. The trolley returns all to Tybee at 4:00 p.m.

At 6:30 PM we'll begin picking you up again for the Good Gawdamighty Party In Your Nightie! party where proper attire is your pajamas! Be comfortable, be frilly, be silly or be practical—it doesn't matter, just wear what feels good! Enjoy an authentic Low Country Boil, the "dish" of the South. This evening is full of fun and surprises. Get your nails done, or have your hair styled by professionals. Want a new look? Let our professionals put your make-up on. Have your face read by our Mareesi, the Voodoo priestess. Dance to the music of our live band. Sip cocktails all evening, including the blue Savannah Breeze concoction that goes down easy!

The highlight of the evening will be the Ms. Savannah Breeze Queen contest. Watch our contestants saunter through the Nightie Competition, the Evening Retro Attire Competition and the Talent Competition. Don't worry if you can't sing—our MC will assist you with karaoke or lip-synching: you just provide the smaltz. Our panel of judges, Mary Kay and friends, will be given the tough task of choosing the Queen and her court. She will be crowned by last year's Queen, Ms. Ellen Jenkins, and she'll reign supreme on Tybee Island. The trolleys begin taking all back to their Island retreats.

Sunday, January 20, 2008

Rise and shine—it's time for the parade!! The Big Kahuna and his parade boat will pick up the Queen, her court and Ms. Andrews. The trolley will follow behind as we pick up our guests for the parade. We'll parade down Tybee Streets and "strut our stuff" and we'll end up at a private Tybee home for brunch. After brunch we'll travel to the Artists' Market where you can look and/or buy wonderful, sometimes eclectic, elegant, and whimsical art in all forms. Jewelry, paintings, sculptures, ornaments, fabric, one-of-a-kind items will delight you.

For those leaving us, we say goodbye and wish for them many great memories of their fun and fabulous weekend.

If you're staying over, participate in our "dine-around" where we'll present you with a list of wonderful restaurants. Simply choose—we'll make the reservation and get you there on Tybee. (Dinner is on your own.)

Today you'll visit one of the best kept secrets of the South: historic Beaufort, South Carolina. This charming, old and elegant Oceanside city has much to offer a visitor. We'll take a tour of Beaufort and hear about her role in Revolutionary and Civil War History; we'll visit the Chocolate Tree and see candies hand-made; we'll see the sights and hear about making such movies as Forest Gump, Something To Talk About, and Prince of Tides, to name a few. Enjoy lunch at one of Beaufort's fabulous restaurants (included) and stroll the streets to do some shopping on your own. We'll return to Tybee and your accommodations at 3:00.

Costs: For Friday through Sunday (3:00) the cost is $350.00*

For Friday through Monday the cost is $450.00*

*Both are early bird specials! After Dec. 1st the costs increase by $75.00

Accommodations and other meals are not included.
